

Bowl destacker

“Tray feeder” SZ10

This system is used to destack plastic bowls and feed them into a moulding machine.

The bowls are stored in a dispenser and set down onto a belt conveyor. From there, they are transported to underneath the moulding plate of the moulding machine. After the products have been placed onto the bowls, they are forwarded to continuous belt conveyors.